

Westfield, IN

The Area

In an area just north of Indianapolis, the community of Westfield is in a transition from a small midwestern town to a vibrant, family-focused, business-minded city. In what once was a stop on the Underground Railroad, now stand new homes, thriving businesses, and many entertainment opportunities.

The shift in the economy has created a challenge for people who want to remain in the community but are on fixed incomes or are unable to maintain their home they've lived in for many years.

Our Partner

Our partner hosts many event for the residents throughout the year including back-to-school events providing shoes for students, food for families, while school isn't in session, an various community wide events.
