

Cincinnati, OH

The Area

Cincinnati, also known as "Queen City," is a big city with warm, small-town, Southern charm. Nearly 43% of children in the city live below the federal poverty level.

Projects

Many of our projects focus on children - whether that's mentoring, reading with, feeding, or just loving them right where they're at.

- Dance Ministry - This ministry brings inner city children together to learn about Jesus through dance lessons. You will mentor young girls through dance while building their confidence for a dance recital at the end of the week.
- Feeding Program - This organization partners with local churches, clubs, housing authorities, and government agencies to serve over 8,000 meals to kids across Northern KY and Cincinnati daily. You will prepare and serve food, as well as interact with the children through games and activities.
- Summer Learning Program - This partner provides nutrition and targeted education for at-risk, school-age children in a safe environment. You will help children in the mobile RV classroom to work on academic skills, lead daily sports and activities, and serve lunch for the children.
