

Philadelphia, PA

Our spring break mission experiences are fully customizable. Choose a 3, 4, or 5 day trip between March 1, 2020 and May 1, 2020 for any group size. Trips are available for anyone ages 12 and older. Price varies depending on the number of days you'd like to serve with us.

The Area

Home of the Liberty Bell and Declaration of Independence, Philadelphia is famous for its rich history and is true to its name as the 'City of Brotherly Love'. In a community that is home to many refugees and immigrants from around the world, poverty, economic opportunity and social just issues are pervasive. The work you'll do will help bring home to residents.

Projects

The work you'll be doing in Philadelphia will center around the Upper Darby area where over 100 languages are spoken within a 10-block radius.

You'll be serving in a variety of ways in low income neighborhoods through children's ministry outreach, prayer in the street outings, community enrichment initiatives, and work projects at refugee homes, the church and parks.

Our Local Partner

For over 10 years, Group Mission Trips has enjoyed a partnership with the area's leading anti-poverty agency. They work hard to improve their community and you'll be blessed to serve residents who will so appreciate the work you're doing on their home.

Lodging Information

You will stay in a local facility with *air-conditioning throughout the building and indoor showers. Everyone will be sleeping on the floors, gender-separate, so make sure you bring your air-mattresses!

Subject to change.*

Area Activities

Be sure to stop at the Liberty Bell to take a picture and then head over to the Philadelphia Museum of Art, known for the iconic jog by Rocky Balboa, to snap some pictures with your fists in the air.

If you're in the mood for shopping you can stop by the Reading Terminal Market, America's oldest farmer's market, to get something yummy.

The Delaware River Waterfront is a great place to explore, eat, and shop for an afternoon or evening.

The Adventure Aquarium or the Philadelphia Zoo are two other local attractions that are fun ways for a group to spend an afternoon together.
